

Judy Gause Memorial Literacy Fund Supports Student Learning

Judy Gause was a reading teacher in Wisconsin Rapids Public Schools for many years. She retired in 1999, after helping many students become proficient readers and writers. Judy was tragically killed in a truck-bicycle accident in 2015. Her family established the "Judy Gause Memorial Literacy Fund," which annually purchases books to support reading instruction for elementary students in Wisconsin Rapids Public Schools. This year, the fund purchased books for Mrs. Leach's first grade classroom library. Judy's legacy lives on through this wonderful gift which is helping future readers!
